

Core Sambucus Blend

What?

Core Sambucus Blend is a synergistic combination of medicinal herbs that have traditionally been used for conditions that affect the immune system due to allergic sensitivities and influenza.

Why?

The main ingredient in this Spagyric botanical blend is Elderflower, also known as Sambucus nigra. Elderflower has traditionally been used to assist with viral conditions of the respiratory system, better known as the “chest cold.” Herbalists have observed that it encourages the movement of mucous from the system, assists with inflammation of the mucous membrane and helps reduce fevers. Other key ingredients are Eyebright, which has been used to help with itchy watery eyes; Hyssop, which has been used to help with bronchitis and respiratory inflammation, the break up of phlegm and the soothing of mucous membranes; Purple Coneflower, which has been used to boost the immune system; and Goldenseal Root which has been used as an antimicrobial and as support for the mucous membrane.

Core Sambucus Blend is a combination of herbs which are reputed to support the immune system, upper respiratory tract and the mucous membrane; all of which can be affected by exposure to viruses, bacteria and allergens. These herbs may assist with symptoms of colds, flu or allergies; alleviating congestion in the chest and boosting the immune system of the body to regain health more quickly.
